

[illegible]

TENDERS.
WORKS—EXTENSION OF TIME

National Libr

MOUNT VICTORIA.

TUESDAY.
The Rev. Mr. Stansfield arrived by the mid-day train to-day, at Mount Victoria, from Sydney. He proceeded to Mr. John Perry's Hotel. After entering the hotel, he fell on his back, and expired instantly. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

BATHURST.

TUESDAY.
A case was heard at the Police-court to-day, in which Benjamin Lee, P.M., charged Daniel Mayne, proprietor of the Bathurst Sentinel newspaper, with libel. Defendant was committed for trial to the Quarter Sessions in September, or to such other Court as the Attorney-General may appoint. A special Bench was summoned for the occasion. The case excited great interest.

BRISBANE.

TUESDAY.
The Governor opened Parliament at noon to-day with unusual éclat. There was a very large attendance. He met with a cordial reception. The speech referred to the kindly reception the colonists had given him; to the influx of Chinese; to the steps taken against the spread of smallpox, quarantine, &c. It also referred to the Premier upon the action of the Imperial authorities; to the Polynesian question, as regards limiting the Polynesian States to the employment of the successful working of the last Land Act; also to the Education Act. A bill on the latter subject, for creating more advanced instruction, is ready for introduction; also a Volunteer Bill. Provision will be made for opening the Victoria Bridge free. A financial Separation Bill is promised; a provisional agreement has been made for the free interchange of certain commodities from South Australia. The railway policy of last session is to be reintroduced; and it is also intended to submit proposals for the formation of short, inexpensive branch lines to the sparsely agricultural districts, and for main lines. The reorganization of the Civil Service; for instance, the payment of members of the Assembly; the structure of municipalities; for the pearl fisheries, and an orphanage, are proposed. The address in reply to the Governor's Speech was adopted without division.

MELBOURNE.

TUESDAY.
Nothing has yet transpired regarding the new Ministry. It is not likely that anything will be settled for a day or two.

A constitutional question has arisen as to whether new writs can properly be issued until the time has elapsed during which petitions against elections can be sent in.

It was reported that Mr. Berry had made a full apology to Sir Charles McMahony and Mr. Davies, and had withdrawn everything. Sir Charles, however, states that the matter has not been arranged, and that he has received no communication from Mr. Berry. He will be a candidate for the Speakership; and intends asking for a committee of inquiry when the House meets, as he does not intend to go to Europe for several months. The matter between Mr. Davies and Mr. Berry is said to have been arranged, and the action will be withdrawn.

Mr. Berry had an interview with Mr. Service to-day, but it is unlikely that the latter will join the Ministry.

It has been stated that Sir Gavan Duffy and Mr. Lalor have declined to become candidates for the Speakership. Mr. O'Loughlin is mentioned for the Attorney-Generalship.

The R.M.S. Tanjore cleared out with 44,493 oz. of gold, and 362,000 sovereigns.

Several London ships are now overdue. The Cairo has been out 180 days, and fears are entertained for her safety. Neither Messrs. Wigram nor Green have any vessels now in port—no unusual occurrence.

Ad valorem. Red flooring boards have advanced.

The weather is clear and fine.

SAILING: City of Adelaide.

QUEENSLAND.

TUESDAY.
Arrived—Delmar, brig, from Malden Island.

Sailed—City of Hobart (s.s.), for Wellington; R.M.S. City of Adelaide (s.s.), for Sydney; at 6.30, R.M.S. Tanjore, for Galle.

ADELAIDE.

TUESDAY.
The Football Association has resolved to challenge the Victorian players to a match in Melbourne, in July.

A mechanic, named Baker, has been brutally assaulted by highway robbers at Gawler. Baker lies in a dangerous condition.

Wheat, 8s. 1d.

TERRIFIC HURRICANE AT TONGA AND SAMOA.

[BY CABLE FROM NEW ZEALAND.]

A terrific hurricane has passed over the Navigator Islands and the Friendly Islands. Its force was severely felt at Tonga and Samoa. It has destroyed the plantations at Tonga and Samoa, and has blown down the houses and sixteen churches have been blown down.

The May Queen, which was at Rua when the hurricane came, disappeared suddenly, and has not been seen since.

Tonga was every where a scene of confusion. The Europeans and four Kanakas were aboard.

A deputation of Samoan chiefs are gone to Fiji to claim English protection for Samoa.

A LION AND LEOPARD FIGHT.—The Zoological Gardens at Perth have just been the scene of a combat worthy of Nero or Elagabalus. The cage, baited by a lion and leopard happened to be next to that in which dwelt a female leopard, for whom the keeper of the desert entertained a special hatred. Probably about a quarter of eight, the lion and leopard were let loose, and the combat began. The lion, however, was not long in getting into a state of rage, and began to pull the lioness by the ears. The lioness, however, was not long in getting into a state of rage, and began to pull the lion by the ears. The lion, however, was not long in getting into a state of rage, and began to pull the lioness by the ears. The lioness, however, was not long in getting into a state of rage, and began to pull the lion by the ears.

Through it, instantly rushed the lioness, breathing hatred and malice, but the lion had no sooner dropped than the lioness was upon him, and he was killed. The lioness was then killed, and the lion was left alone. The lioness was then killed, and the lion was left alone.

COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

A COACH ON FIRE.—Last week, says the Moama Observer, as the Boolee coach was standing at the change of the top of the mountain, it was suddenly set on fire, and the whole of the coach was consumed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the chimney of the coach.

BOOKS WORTH READING.

"RUSSIA."

From the first beginning of the Eastern difficulty, public attention has been directed to Russia, and Turkey, and any information concerning these countries has been eagerly looked upon. Now, however, the interest in this subject has become more and more concentrated, while the crop of books which always follows the demand for particular knowledge has already begun to appear. One of the most exhaustive that have come out in the course of the last few years is entitled "Russia," by Dr. Mackenzie Wallace, M.A., a member of the Imperial Russian Geological Society.

To review this book adequately would require many columns of space, and would moreover be beyond the powers of any but an able political writer, but a short notice may serve to call the attention of those who desire to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the history and present state of the Czar's dominions in regard to political organization, religion, rural and provincial institutions, social classes, and national character. On all these subjects Mr. Wallace qualifies himself to speak, by remaining six years in Russia, journeying from place to place, and living for months in various parts of the country among different tribes, in order to study their peculiarities and modes of life.

And the materials thus collected are presented to us in a most beautiful and clear manner, as the case in so many travellers' books, but are clearly and logically arranged. The attention is unweariedly sustained during the whole 900 pages, and at the end a clear conception of Russia remains in the mind.

Although the book is a splendid book, the work of an intellectual man who spared no pains to make himself acquainted with the subject on which he intended to write, and it is one which deserves not merely to be read, but to be kept on the shelves of every one who is interested in the subject. The concluding, and at present most important chapter is devoted to the discussion of the "Eastern Question," which Mr. Wallace considers in a most exhaustive manner, and brings the whole weight of his knowledge and experience to bear upon the side of Russia, in a manner which is particularly gratifying to those who hate the works more than they love the balance of power, but little has been said in the book to give any valid reason for their Slavonic proclivities.

The opinion of one so conversant with Russian sentiments and motives of action is of such value, and so free from the bias of party, that it is well worth reading to war is so succinctly given, that it seems a pity that those who have no opportunity of procuring the volume should not have the benefit of the closing pages of Mr. Wallace's book. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

THE SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1877.

"RUSSIA."

From the first beginning of the Eastern difficulty, public attention has been directed to Russia, and Turkey, and any information concerning these countries has been eagerly looked upon. Now, however, the interest in this subject has become more and more concentrated, while the crop of books which always follows the demand for particular knowledge has already begun to appear. One of the most exhaustive that have come out in the course of the last few years is entitled "Russia," by Dr. Mackenzie Wallace, M.A., a member of the Imperial Russian Geological Society.

To review this book adequately would require many columns of space, and would moreover be beyond the powers of any but an able political writer, but a short notice may serve to call the attention of those who desire to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the history and present state of the Czar's dominions in regard to political organization, religion, rural and provincial institutions, social classes, and national character. On all these subjects Mr. Wallace qualifies himself to speak, by remaining six years in Russia, journeying from place to place, and living for months in various parts of the country among different tribes, in order to study their peculiarities and modes of life.

And the materials thus collected are presented to us in a most beautiful and clear manner, as the case in so many travellers' books, but are clearly and logically arranged. The attention is unweariedly sustained during the whole 900 pages, and at the end a clear conception of Russia remains in the mind.

Although the book is a splendid book, the work of an intellectual man who spared no pains to make himself acquainted with the subject on which he intended to write, and it is one which deserves not merely to be read, but to be kept on the shelves of every one who is interested in the subject. The concluding, and at present most important chapter is devoted to the discussion of the "Eastern Question," which Mr. Wallace considers in a most exhaustive manner, and brings the whole weight of his knowledge and experience to bear upon the side of Russia, in a manner which is particularly gratifying to those who hate the works more than they love the balance of power, but little has been said in the book to give any valid reason for their Slavonic proclivities.

The opinion of one so conversant with Russian sentiments and motives of action is of such value, and so free from the bias of party, that it is well worth reading to war is so succinctly given, that it seems a pity that those who have no opportunity of procuring the volume should not have the benefit of the closing pages of Mr. Wallace's book. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

THE SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1877.

"RUSSIA."

From the first beginning of the Eastern difficulty, public attention has been directed to Russia, and Turkey, and any information concerning these countries has been eagerly looked upon. Now, however, the interest in this subject has become more and more concentrated, while the crop of books which always follows the demand for particular knowledge has already begun to appear. One of the most exhaustive that have come out in the course of the last few years is entitled "Russia," by Dr. Mackenzie Wallace, M.A., a member of the Imperial Russian Geological Society.

To review this book adequately would require many columns of space, and would moreover be beyond the powers of any but an able political writer, but a short notice may serve to call the attention of those who desire to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the history and present state of the Czar's dominions in regard to political organization, religion, rural and provincial institutions, social classes, and national character. On all these subjects Mr. Wallace qualifies himself to speak, by remaining six years in Russia, journeying from place to place, and living for months in various parts of the country among different tribes, in order to study their peculiarities and modes of life.

And the materials thus collected are presented to us in a most beautiful and clear manner, as the case in so many travellers' books, but are clearly and logically arranged. The attention is unweariedly sustained during the whole 900 pages, and at the end a clear conception of Russia remains in the mind.

Although the book is a splendid book, the work of an intellectual man who spared no pains to make himself acquainted with the subject on which he intended to write, and it is one which deserves not merely to be read, but to be kept on the shelves of every one who is interested in the subject. The concluding, and at present most important chapter is devoted to the discussion of the "Eastern Question," which Mr. Wallace considers in a most exhaustive manner, and brings the whole weight of his knowledge and experience to bear upon the side of Russia, in a manner which is particularly gratifying to those who hate the works more than they love the balance of power, but little has been said in the book to give any valid reason for their Slavonic proclivities.

The opinion of one so conversant with Russian sentiments and motives of action is of such value, and so free from the bias of party, that it is well worth reading to war is so succinctly given, that it seems a pity that those who have no opportunity of procuring the volume should not have the benefit of the closing pages of Mr. Wallace's book. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

THE SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1877.

"RUSSIA."

From the first beginning of the Eastern difficulty, public attention has been directed to Russia, and Turkey, and any information concerning these countries has been eagerly looked upon. Now, however, the interest in this subject has become more and more concentrated, while the crop of books which always follows the demand for particular knowledge has already begun to appear. One of the most exhaustive that have come out in the course of the last few years is entitled "Russia," by Dr. Mackenzie Wallace, M.A., a member of the Imperial Russian Geological Society.

To review this book adequately would require many columns of space, and would moreover be beyond the powers of any but an able political writer, but a short notice may serve to call the attention of those who desire to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the history and present state of the Czar's dominions in regard to political organization, religion, rural and provincial institutions, social classes, and national character. On all these subjects Mr. Wallace qualifies himself to speak, by remaining six years in Russia, journeying from place to place, and living for months in various parts of the country among different tribes, in order to study their peculiarities and modes of life.

And the materials thus collected are presented to us in a most beautiful and clear manner, as the case in so many travellers' books, but are clearly and logically arranged. The attention is unweariedly sustained during the whole 900 pages, and at the end a clear conception of Russia remains in the mind.

Although the book is a splendid book, the work of an intellectual man who spared no pains to make himself acquainted with the subject on which he intended to write, and it is one which deserves not merely to be read, but to be kept on the shelves of every one who is interested in the subject. The concluding, and at present most important chapter is devoted to the discussion of the "Eastern Question," which Mr. Wallace considers in a most exhaustive manner, and brings the whole weight of his knowledge and experience to bear upon the side of Russia, in a manner which is particularly gratifying to those who hate the works more than they love the balance of power, but little has been said in the book to give any valid reason for their Slavonic proclivities.

The opinion of one so conversant with Russian sentiments and motives of action is of such value, and so free from the bias of party, that it is well worth reading to war is so succinctly given, that it seems a pity that those who have no opportunity of procuring the volume should not have the benefit of the closing pages of Mr. Wallace's book. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

"The religious factor" alluded to in the feeling of veneration with which the "orthodox" have always regarded the ancient past, in consequence of their having been originally a part of the Patriarchate of Constantinople. They are, therefore, recommended to be read.

AUCTION SALES.

BUICK-SALE.
NEW BREW.

FOR POSITIVE SALE.
Under instructions from the Consignees,
Messrs. GILCHRIST and WESTON.

GILCHRIST, STUBBS, and WESTON will sell by auction, at the

AUCTION ROOMS,

THIS DAY, May 16, at half-past 10 for 11 o'clock,

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

24, HOBARTS ROAD, (NEW BREW),

PROPERTY SALE THIS AFTERNOON.

WAVERLEYLAND AND PROPERTY.
ADVERTISED FOR LAST SATURDAY.

Consisting of
THE GARDENS HOTEL
VILLA RESIDENCE
and
10 ALLOTMENTS OF LAND
WILL TAKE PLACE THIS DAY.

WEDNESDAY, 16th MAY, at half-past 2 o'clock.

W. PRITCHARD,

281, GEORGE-STREET, opposite HUNTER-ST.,

on THURSDAY, the 17th May,

at 11 o'clock.

SPLENDID WATER FRONTAGE
DAILING HARBOUR.

BLOCK OF LAND,
MONTELEONE STREET,

OFF RAGLAN-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

WATERLOO,

upon which is erected, at the rear, two small Weatherboard

Cottages, with flower garden in front.

ALLOTMENT OF LAND,
MONTELEONE STREET,

WOOLLAHRA.

ALLOTMENTS OF LAND,
RYDE, GLADESVILLE, PARRAMATTA RIVER,

ST. PETERS, COOK'S RIVER,

TEMPER, COOK'S RIVER.

BELLO RETIRO.

FEARLIE'S HOTEL, WYNARD-SQUARE.

The very BEST HOTEL, doing the largest and most profitable business, and having by far the most extensive connection of any hotel in SYDNEY.

HARDIE and GORMAN have been favoured with instructions, to DISPOSE OF,

BY PRIVATE CONTRACT,

THE LEASE

GOODWILL

LICENSE

The whole of the valuable FURNITURE and

Fixtures and Gasfittings

Stock-in-trade of choice wines and spirits of PFAH-

LETT'S REST, the principal hotel in Sydney, doing the largest and most profitable business, and with the least trouble and expense, of any in this colony.

The premises are held on most favourable and advantageous terms.

The situation is the most central, combining access with quiet retirement.

The connection is most thoroughly established throughout the colony.

The premises comprise

Public bar, with counter and fittings

Billiard-room

Sitting and smoking rooms

Magificent dining saloon, the largest in the city

Reading and drawing rooms

7 suites for private families

About 50 bedrooms

Servants' apartments

Extensive kitchen accommodation, with splendid cooking apparatus, and every convenience for the most extensive business

Good cellarage

Store-rooms

Painters

Linen rooms

And Baths and patent closets

Out-offices, &c.

Only one-half of the above is being offered, securing every comfort and convenience.

This opportunity of securing a profitable business (personally of which can be obtained on reference to the prospectus of the business, and the terms of sale, is a rare opportunity, and one which will be eagerly seized by any person who can obtain full particulars from

HARDIE and GORMAN,

Bell's-chambers, 175, Pitt-street.

SMALL CITY INVESTMENT.

Nos. 7 and 7A, EXETER-STREET, of WEXFORD-

STREET, HAYMARKET, consisting of TWO

House, each containing 4 ROOMS, kitchen, &c.,

with plant water-closets, and good yards.

These houses are built of brick on stone foundations, and are situated in the most popular locality, and are underlet at 10 per cent.

TORRENS' TITLE.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Salerooms, Bell's-chambers, 175, Pitt-street, at 11 o'clock on THURSDAY, 22nd May.

THE ABOVE DESCRIBED SMALL CITY INVESTMENT, being Nos. 7

and 7A, EXETER-STREET, of WEXFORD-

STREET, HAYMARKET.

THIS is a thoroughly well-built and very substantial property, occupying a good position in a most popular locality, where business is constantly increasing, and well worthy the attention of any person seeking a small but permanent investment.

Day of Sale,

TUESDAY, 22nd May.

POSTPONED on account of the inclemency of the weather to SATURDAY NEXT.

PADDINGTON.

FIVE VALUABLE ALLOTMENTS OF LAND

fronting

SOUTH-HEAD ROAD, and

ELIZABETH-STREET,

opposite the ENGLISH, SCOTTISH, and AUS-

TRALIAN CHAMBERED BANK, WEST-

OFFICE, and the residence of W. PERRY, Esq.,

near to the PUBLIC SCHOOL.

TITLE—Apply to WILLIAM BARKER, Esq., Solicitor,

Hunter and Bligh streets.

TO SPECULATORS, TIN MINERS, and others.

POSITIVE UNRESERVED SALE of the whole of the

SEVERN RIVER, TIN MINE AND PLANT,

situate on the

SEVERN RIVER, NEAR STANTHOPE,

QUEENSLAND,

and consisting of

1000 ACRES OF FREEHOLD LAND, known to contain large quantities of

THE RICHEST RUBBY TIN ORE.

This property commands a frontage of TWO or THREE

MILES on both sides of the

SEVERN RIVER,

and is within a short distance of the township of

STANTHOPE.

THE GOVERNMENT ROAD

also passes through the land direct to

WARWICK.

THE PLANT

consists of

FIRST-CLASS PORTABLE ENGINE AND PUMP,

MINING IMPLEMENTS generally, MANAGER'S

RESIDENCE, ORNAMENTAL, &c., &c.

TERMS, CASH.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions from the Official Liquidator of the

SEVERN RIVER TIN MINING CO. (Limited)

to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Bell's-chambers,

175, Pitt-street, Sydney, at 11 o'clock, on

